ASSESSMENT RESULTS

| Compensation ( | C) |
|----------------|----|
|----------------|----|

| Benchmark ID                        | C.1.1  |
|-------------------------------------|--|
| Benchmark Details                   | Employers shall comply with all national laws, regulations and procedures concerning the payment of compensation to workers.   |
| Finding Details                     | The temporary labor agencies do not pay new hires for the time spent in new hire orientation. The temporary labor agency contends that during the application and interview process, that they provide an orientation on the labor agency's policies and procedures, however, the new hire is not paid for the orientation period. The labor agency estimates that new hire orientation is approximately one hour. |
| Recommendation for Immediate Action | 1. Ensure the new hire orientation is distinct event from the application and interview process. 2. Ensure all new hires are paid for the orientation period. Root cause: The company is not the employer of record.   |
| ComplianceClassifications       | Immediate Action Required  |
| Local Law                           | CA minimum wage requirement or FLSA minimum wage requirement   |
| Benchmark ID                        | C.19.1   |
| Benchmark Details                   | Employers shall make every reasonable effort to ensure workers understand their compensation, including: the calculation of wages, incentives systems, benefits, and bonuses they are entitled to at the workplace and under applicable laws.  |

| Finding Details                     | 1. All benefits are provided by the employer of record which is the temporary labor agency. However, the company does support workers by paying the labor agencies the cost of the 5-day annual vacation (after 1 year of service) and the holiday pay for Thanksgiving for all production workers. |

Employment Relationship (ER)

| Benchmark ID                        | ER.14.1  |
|-------------------------------------|--|
| Benchmark Details                   | Employers shall use standard contract language with employment agencies or intermediaries that specifically imparts power to employers to directly pay wages to migrant/ contract/ contingent/ temporary workers and ensures equality of compensation and workplace standards as set under the FLA Workplace Code and national laws and regulations.                                     |
| Finding Details                     | The company pays the temporary labor agency for the services of contracted labor, but the temporary labor agencies pay the weekly wages to their employees directly. The company did not provide any evidence of monitoring or auditing if the compensation payments are properly paid by the temporary labor agencies according to FLA Workplace Code and national laws and regulation. |

| Benchmark Details                      | Employers shall not hire contract/contingent/temporary workers as a means to support continuing business needs on a long-term basis.  |

| Finding Details                     | All forty-nine (49) workers in the production area are hired directly by the temporary labor agencies. The company has contracted with the two labor agencies for at least 3 years. Company management stated that it is the strategic plan of production to rely on the contracted services of production workers. Additionally, through worker interviews, workers said that since being assigned to the factory they have not witnessed any contracted production worker being put on permanent payroll with the company. |

| Benchmark ID                        | ER.16.3  |
| Benchmark Details                   | Where temporary or permanent layoffs are unavoidable, a plan should be developed and implemented that mitigates the adverse effects of such changes on workers and their communities.  |

| Finding Details                     | In January and February 2023, the company advised the staffing agencies which provide staff for the facility of a reduction in production requirements, which resulted in the labor agencies reassigning workers away from the facility. The company conducted monitoring of the agency's work to re-assign these workers to other sites, and the company and agency remained in compliance with laws regarding severance. The assessment found, however, that a plan to mitigate the adverse effects of this reduction on the agency's workers was not communicated. |
